Missing Table

Have you seen our missing table? One of our cherished wooden tables from the original Cherry Valley School has turned up missing. The table is about 10' long, 3' wide and 3' tall. It has been missing since the end of August. Please contact the District Office at 264-9332 with any information you might have.

Coaches vs. Cancer is Coming!

The third annual Coaches vs. Cancer Basketball Event will be held January 11 for Girls; and January 15 for Boys. Once again we will be raising money to search for a cure for children's cancer. Proceeds will be sent to St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, the V Foundation for Pediatric Cancer Research and the Albany Medical Centers Children's Cancer Unit. We are looking for t-shirt sponsors, food items to sell in the booth and penny raffle items. We have already sent a call out to alumni across the country seeing if they wish to help by donating items again this year. Last year with help of the items donated by alumni locally, and across the country, we were able to raise over $3,800 this year our goal is $4,000. Participation sheets will be sent home with students in December, or if you are interested in helping in any way please call Melissa Jaquay at 607-264-3265, ext. 236 or email mjaquay@cvscs.org. We also have a facebook group CVS Coaches vs Cancer 2016 feel free to contact us there!

CVSTA is Collecting Box Tops for Education

The Cherry Valley-Springfield Teachers' Association is collecting Box Tops to provide a book to each Pre-Kindergarten student at their graduation ceremony in June. The Box Tops are found on many commonly used products like General Mills cereals, Scott brand paper products, and Progressive soups as well as many others. Simply cut the small coupons off the box or label, slip them into a baggie or envelope and send them into school with your child to give to his/her 1st period teacher. Help the CVSTA congratulate the youngest members of our school community.

Halloween Celebration

Ghosts and goblins haunted the hallways on October 30. Students and adults of all ages dressed up as princesses, super heroes, minions and even carrots! Costumes ranged from cute and adorable to creepy and scary, with many clever ideas in between. There was a huge amount of creativity shown through all the unique costumes. Elementary students culminated their day with a parade and classroom parties and activities. The Middle and High School students joined the fun in the Student Council sponsored contest as well as Junior Class Dance. Winners of the costume contest included, a group of tenth graders who dressed as the cast of Grease and a group of 7th graders who were Monopoly game pieces. Other winners included Samantha Patterson and Kathleen Jacoby as Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum, Alex Cronkhite as an angry baby, Zach O'Connor as a nun , Will Murnion as the ghost of Michael Jackson, and the best teacher look alike was Shannon Sears dressed as Ms. Bouck.

Superintendent's Message

You may have heard about the Smart Schools Bond Act. I get a lot questions about this topic and what exactly it means for our school. The Smart Schools Bond Act or SSBA is a voter approved issuance of two billion dollars split among New York school districts to be used for improved educational technology support. This was presented to the voters in November of 2014. The Cherry Valley-Springfield Central School District is the recipient of $618,522 to be spent over a three year period. The district is responsible for paying for purchases upfront and then will be reimbursed from the State.

The first step for the district is to have its technology plan submitted and approved by New York State. We have sent our plan and have received word it has been approved. We have had meetings to discuss with the staff and board of education how best to spend this money to attain the most benefit for our students.

Some of the preliminary ideas we have been working on at this point are:

- A 1:1 device initiative where students will get their own chrome book to use for the school year.
- Wifi access on our school busses to allow students to extend their school day and complete assignments while traveling to and from school.
- New software and hardware purchases.

These ideas are the main ones we are focusing on as a district. The administrators have traveled to several districts throughout the state to observe and learn about their use of ipads, chrome books and laptops in the education process. If we move forward in supplying the students with their own devices there is much preliminary work to be done with student and staff training, and to make sure our current system could support that number of devices being used in house at the same time.

We are also looking to purchase new equipment to strengthen our computer labs and number of devices in the building. In the future, New York State will be moving all student testing to online. We will need to make sure we have the capability for large numbers of students taking NYS assessments online at the same time.

As we move forward and continue to work on prioritizing our technology needs for the district please do not hesitate to call the school at 264-9332, or email me at tryan@cvscs.org with your ideas and suggestions. Your input is valuable and always welcomed.

Thank you,
Timothy R. Ryan

Alumni Spotlight

This year's first alumni spotlight is Justin Brooks. Justin graduated from Cherry Valley-Springfield with the Class of 2001. He is originally from Springfield Center, but now he resides in Brooklyn. Justin is a filmmaker and part of a freelance organization that works with groups such as ESPN, Vogue, Field of Dreams Films, Vocativ, and VICE. Justin's interests include film, music and traveling. Brooks said music has always been an important part of his life. When he was in his twenties he enjoyed traveling the world on tour with his bands. He especially liked observing other cultures and being able to try new things along the way. Today, music is still part of his life, but now that his filming career has taken off, the time he has to spend on music has been tampered down. Film-making has given Justin many opportunities to travel, just like he was able to do when making music.

When asked about his greatest professional accomplishment, he replied, "I have had the good fortune to be part of many amazing things thanks to the career I have chosen. These range from flying to Dubai and riding in Bugatti's with their police force, to diving shipwrecks and filming underwater exploration. More recently, I had the great honor to film Malala and encourage her fight for education." Malala is the former Iraqi girl who was shot for wanting to receive an education.

"I have been blessed with an exciting life." Justin stated, to simply choose one career is hard, as each moment of my different careers has brought a different sense of accomplishment. His advice to CV-S students is, "the trick, I suppose, is to never stop searching for those accomplishments, and always strive towards that next great story. In the end, your life is simply a story you have to tell, make yours exciting to listen to."

As a student at Cherry Valley-Springfield school his favorite teachers were Mrs. Jaquay and Ms. Bouck because of their, "constant support, inspiration and tolerance." Brooks said that if he was to become a teacher at CV-S he would like to teach a class called Art in Production about how to turn art into a career. I asked him how he sees alumni members and current students at CV-S shaping the future and he said, "I have always had pride in where I've come from and how the culture there has kept me grounded. CV-S is a small town school, but the teachers there have always had a much bigger world in mind for their students. CVS Alumni go out into the world and bring with them a strong sense of community, a strong work ethic, and are unafraid to get their hands dirty and work. I think hard work and community are integral parts of what pushes this world forwards."

Lastly, Brooks said that the most valuable lesson that he has learned over the years was that, "the world is much larger than CV-S and every single type of student has a place in it, and an importance to it. There are teachers at CV-S that will help you see that world and support you in finding your place in it, utilize them."

Elementary Principal's Message

Dear Families of CV-SCS,

It is with bittersweet emotion that I write this letter. I will be leaving the district in mid-January to pursue another wonderful opportunity to serve as the Elementary Principal for the Fort Plain Central School District.

I will truly miss the students and families of our school community. I have been with the district for ten years and nothing has brought more joy to my professional life than watching our students grow and achieve. I consider my relationships with each of you as parents invaluable. Please know I will continue to be a fan of each and every child here. I look forward to hearing about their future successes. Thank you to those of you who welcomed not only me, but my entire family into your hearts as members of this community. We have been blessed.

I'm confident that my outstanding colleagues will continue to offer a great academic program to your children. CV-SCS employees are a talented and supportive collective.

Happy holidays and best wishes for a great 2016!

Proud be your Principal,
Lauren H. Crisman

Red Ribbon Week

The C-VS SADD club celebrated red ribbon week, the week of 10/26. Red ribbon week is advocating a positive drug free life. The SADD club handed out ribbons, and stickers. The club wore red on Thursday, 10/30, and SADD also participated in mix-it-up at lunch by sitting with people they would not normally sit with to help spread the idea of a positive drug free life to their fellow students. The club planted their red tulips in front of the school sign on Monday, 11/2.

This is the last chance to put ad's in the yearbook. If you have a business that would like to advertise or you are a parent, friend or relative of a senior you can put in an ad. This space is closing up but we do have some space left. Please contact Yearbook Advisor Melissa Jaquay ASAP if you are interested by calling 607-264-3265, ext. 236; or emailing mjaquay@cvscs.org. Elementary Art and STEAM

Stop Motion Studio App

In art at STEAM second, third and fourth grade students learned how to use Stop Motion Studio a free app. STEAM students worked with partners creating a stop-motion animation to demonstrate a pond food chain. In art students used the app and 3D props to make their own short movies. I am truly impressed with our student's ability to use technology as a tool for learning.

American Legion 5K Race

With me watching my cross country team suffer through each race all year long I thought it would be enjoyable for them if they got to watch me suffer through a race once this year. It was a tough race on a tough course but I am glad I did it. Besides letting my cross country athletes watch me in pain it is always fun getting involved with the Cherry Valley Springfield community members.

The race was two days after the boys sectional race at Chenengo Valley State Park and it was obvious their legs were tired from the relative lack of rest between races. Freshman Alex Cronkhite and Freshman Ryan Burr have finished each race this year together. The two battle it out to till they finally reach the finish line and I never know which one will emerge victorious that day until they finally cross. Saturday proved no different as the two boys battled it out to a photo finish ultimately decided by a very competitive best two out of three in rock paper scissors with Alex coming out on top. Sophomore Jacob Wilson has made huge improvements since his first days of practice this season and Saturday was no different. He has gone from consistently running 28-minute, 5-kilometer races early in the year to finishing this 5k, on tired legs, in 23:XX minutes. The future looks bright for these three young men and the entire C-VS cross country team as they have everyone returning and will try and improve on their 6th place WAC finish from this year.

Thank You,
Matthew Flint

MS/HS Principal's Message

Dear CV-S Families,

In light of the many recent controversies throughout the U.S. regarding the use of personal electronic devices at school, I would like to remind you of our guideline that was written by a shared decision making committee made up of administrators, counselors, teachers, support staff members, students, and parents. Please see below.

Electronic Devices

Modern technology has made available many forms of electronic devices for communication and computation, and the school recognizes that many students will possess them. Examples of electronic devices include, but are not limited to the following: cell phones, PDA's, calculators, personal laptops/computers, digital cameras, recording devices of any kind, MP3 players, iPods, tablets, e-readers, etc. Students may bring these devices to school but must also recognize they are responsible for their safekeeping. While these devices are useful they also cause many concerns in the school environment as described below:

1. Invasion of Privacy

Given the capability of electronic devices (audio and visual), they cannot be used in a manner that will jeopardize the privacy of either staff or students. Students who use electronic devices in inappropriate manners may be subject to a disciplinary action, up to and including suspension from school. Items may also be confiscated.

2. Disruption of Academic Setting

Cherry Valley-Springfield's purpose is to maintain an academic environment. Electronic equipment should be activated during academic settings for approved academic use only.Settings refer to, but are not limited to the following: the Library Media Center, classrooms, computer labs, study halls, public assemblies, and field trips. Students who use electronic devices that disrupt the academic setting may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including suspension from school. Items may also be confiscated.

3. Academic Dishonesty

To maintain an appropriate educational environment, electronic devices (audio and visual) must not be used in any manner that will jeopardize the integrity of any testing or assessment situation. Any violation of this provision will be considered a violation of Cherry Valley- Springfield's policy of academic misconduct (see academic misconduct).

4. Safety

In order to maintain a safe environment for all students and staff, use of any electronic device and/or headphones in hallways from 7:45 a.m.-2:48 p.m. is not permitted.

Use of any electronic device will be at the discretion of school personnel. Failure to comply with a directive from school personnel is insubordination and will result in disciplinary consequences.

I strongly encourage you to have conversations with your children about cell phone etiquette and the appropriate use of electronic devices. Please be advised that there are many secret apps available which allow smart phone users to conceal photos on apps that are disguised as calculators, etc. These apps can essentially allow young people to hide their cyber lives from their parents. ABC News recently ran a story entitled, "Children Using 'Secret' Mobile Apps to Keep Things Hidden From Parents." Here is the address for the story: http://abcnews.go.com/Technology/children-secret-mobile-apps-things-hidden-parents/story?id=33532328.

As always, our goal is to promote and protect the welfare and safety of students and staff, within and beyond our school walls.

Sincerely,
Kevin M. Keane
Principal

Happy Holidays!

CV-S Teachers' Association

The CV-STA LAP committee held a Quarter Auction at the Cherry Valley Community Center on October 24. Attendees of all ages had fun bidding on over 50 auction items, including gift certificates from local businesses, while sampling a variety of refreshments. Money raised will be used to support our students, staff and the CV-S community through initiatives such as: student folders, movie nights, mentor panel, hearts and flowers committee, and donations within our school and community, such as the Whiteman-Hull-Snyder American Legion Post 1360 5K, SADD, and Relay for Life . Thank you to the CV-S Math Honor Society students who volunteered their time to help everything run smoothly that evening!

Pep Rally

On October 30, a pep rally was set up to celebrate the two varsity soccer teams making it to the Class D Section IV finals for soccer. The Boys' played undefeated Delaware League Co-Champions South Kortright and the Girls' played Tri-Valley League Champions Milford. The games were to be played on Halloween, so the pep rally and bonfire helped pump the teams up and gave the community members a chance to wish the teams well.

The pep rally, held in front of grades PreK-12 and parents of the elementary students, started with the younger grades parading around the gym in their Halloween costumes. After the parade Student Council President Ryan Jaquay and Co-Vice President Sarah introduced the coaches. The coaches then came forward and spoke about the two teams and the support the school as a whole has given the teams. What followed was a little spirited competition including a dance battle between the Boys' and Girls' teams. The boys were voted the winners as they impressed all with their whip and nae nae. Next the teams led the whole gym in a modified version of the wave to the song Sandstorm by Darude. Finally, the two teams came together, linked arms to the song We Ready by Archie Eversole. That night thanks to Mrs. Jaquay, Mr. Keane, Marty Field and the Cherry Valley and Springfield Fire Departments there was a bon fire before the Halloween dance for the two teams.

Varsity Club Update

So far this year the Varsity Club has been very active, we have purchased the new food shed down by the track and soccer field. With the help of donations of labor and items from the Stocking Family, Wayde Clapper, Lou Allstadt, Mr. Keane and our janitors we had the shed ready to roll complete with wiring and cabinets for the whole soccer season. The Varsity Club also purchased the patriot fence decorations and would like thank Mrs. Jaquay for spending hours and hours evenings while we practiced this summer popping the cups into place. The shed and the fence helped bring spirit and pride to the field this fall. At the end of October the Varsity Club rented a bus and traveled to New York City to see a professional soccer game between NYC and New England Revolution at Yankee Stadium. We had great seats and all who attended had a fun time even if the horn on the bus blew all the way home! There is more in store for the Varsity Club this year as we plan the third annual Coaches vs Cancer Event, continue to raise money for new basketball scoreboards, get ready for the second annual indoor soccer tournament and host the three CV-S Invitationals. Keep an eye out for upcoming events!

—Ryan Jaquay, Varsity Club President

Boys' Soccer Makes it to NY State Quarterfinals

On Saturday, November 7 our CV-S Varsity Boys' Soccer Team travelled to Chittenango Central School to play against Cincinnatus in the State Quarterfinals. The game would determine who would advance to the New York State Class D State Semifinals. The CV-S boys played on a turf field which is something not many of them are used to, they were fortunate enough to travel to Sidney Central School earlier in the week to practice on and learn the idiosyncrasies of playing on turf, which is very different than natural grass. Coach Adams, with the support of Mr. Brigham, Mr. Keane and the school district, made these arrangements so the boys could familiarize them with the difference a turf field can bring to the game. Throughout the long bus ride and the cold, wet game the boys fought hard and had many good runs and saves but unfortunately, it was not enough to stop Cincinnatus. The final score of the game was 2-0, ending the CV-S Varsity Boys' season. Congratulations to the Boys' for an awesome year and from both the girls' and boys' teams thank you community for all your support all year!

Sectional Final in Soccer

For the first time since the merger of Cherry Valley and Springfield 28 years ago, we sent both the Boys' and Girls' team to the Sectional Finals in Soccer. Both teams played on October 31, at Wright National Soccer Campus in Oneonta. The boys' played against the Delaware League's Co-Champion South Kortright and the girls played Tri-Valley League rivals Milford. The girls' finished an amazing season falling just a little short in the finals. This loss follows a sectional loss in overtime to Milford in 2013, but the girls are already setting goals to return next year. The third time is the charm? The Boys' Varsity won the Section IV title in overtime, defeating the number one seeded Rams. Both teams would like to thank the community for all their support in our league games as well as the Tri-Valley Championships and Sectional Finals, the fire departments for their escorts back into town and the school for our wonderful pep rally and bonfire. School and community spirit was flowing steadily this fall and we hope to ride the wave throughout basketball season.

Eagle Scout Achievements

The Cherry Valley-Springfield School district has four seniors who have been working toward attaining the Eagle Scout rank and have recently completed their required Eagle Scout community service projects. Three of these students James Wait, Albert Wait, and Ryan Jaquay are members of the Springfield Boy Scout Troop. The other senior, Slade Brigham is a member of the Worcester Troop. These young men have completed their projects with the help of scouts, parents, family, adults from the community and even the CV-S Boys' Soccer Team.

James Wait saw that the outdoor basketball court at the community center in Cherry Valley was in poor condition, damaged badly by the last flood, so he decided to create a new one. He started his project by raising approximately $15,000 by writing to corporations like Chobani, as well as soliciting relatives, and family friends who generously donated toward the project. James then purchased all of the needed materials including asphalt and two new baskets. Next came the elbow grease. Utilizing the manual help of his Varsity Soccer teammates they all worked together, completing the finished product in just a few weeks. The court can be seen and used at the Cherry Valley Community Center. The hope and expectation is that the new court will be used more often than the old gravel based court.

Albert Wait realized that there is a large demographic of elderly persons who attend the different churches and community facilities in Cherry Valley on a regular basis, but he also observed that there were no handicapped parking spaces available at these buildings. Wanting to make a change, for his Eagle Project Albert got materials such as signs, stencils, and paint donated by the New York State Department of Transportation and went to work creating these areas. The Town of Cherry Valley provided the posts to place the signs and assisted with making areas in the sidewalk have less "curb," making it easier for people to negotiate safely. Albert completed the project in two days with the help of family, friends, and troop members.

Ryan Jaquay is a student who loves history and has an appreciation for the veterans who have served our country. With that in mind, Ryan decided to pay tribute to the deceased veterans who have served from our community by cleaning their headstones for his Eagle Project. When visiting the Cherry Valley Village Office to pick up a map of the cemetery, he was asked by Mrs. Dot Johnson to map the front of the cemetery as the village did not have any record of the stones there. Ryan added this to his project. Ryan, his family, friends, fellow scouts and community members completed his project over a series of four weekends in September and October. Together they cleaned over 200 Veteran's stones throughout the cemetery and mapped over 470 in the oldest part of the cemetery.

Slade Brigham's project also revolved around a cemetery. Slade took responsibility for taking care of an abandoned cemetery in Middlefield. This cemetery, across from the Baptist Church is the oldest cemetery in the town. Slade, over the last few weeks, with the help of members of Troop 168 removed all the debris, mowed and raked the area. In some areas the debris consisting of old leaves and sticks was up to 8 inches thick. Slade has also replaced posts and re-installed the cable fence around the perimeter.

The CV-S School community is very proud of the accomplishments of these young men and would like to congratulate them on their accomplishments.

Veteran's Day Breakfast

Tuesday, November 10, Cherry Valley-Springfield celebrated Veteran's Day with its Second Annual Veteran's Breakfast. The breakfast was put on by Mr. Ryan and served by members of the CV-S Student Council. The food served at the breakfast was donated by staff and prepared by the cafeteria staff. This year the event was attended by 37 people. Mr. Lamouret, a teacher at CV-S and a veteran himself stated, "I think it's great that the school puts this on. It's a great way to recognize veterans and bring people together." Most students do not know who the veterans in their community are so this is a great event for everyone involved. Following the breakfast was an elementary assembly where the Cherry Valley American Legion Post presented the honor guard. A short speech was made about Veteran's Day and the Fifth Grade Chorus sang an arrangement of "America the Beautiful." All participants had a great time and everyone hopes that the Veteran's Day Breakfast continues to be a community event and tradition that happens for many years to come.
